Educators Endorse GOP Changes In Federal Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans are picking up support among state and local public school officials for their proposed changes in President Johnson's school aid program.

The board of directors of a group representing state superintendents of education voted 7 to 0 to support amendments proposed by Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., to the Elementary and Secondary School Act.

And some local school officials, particularly those in Southern and rural areas, are urging their congressmen to vote for the Quie amendments.

The basic change Quie would make in the 2-year-old program is to provide lump sum grants to the states instead of allocating them to individual school districts for specified uses.

Can't End Probe Claims Garrison

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison said "there's no way in the world" to stop his investigation of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

"All they can do is slow it down," Garrison said after a series of developments Wednesday.

These included:

A request for a subpoena directing the Central Intelligence Agency to produce what Garrison claims is a long-suppressed photo of Lee Harvey Oswald, named by the Warren Commission as the assassin of Kennedy.

Refusal by the Justice Department to permit an FBI agent to testify before the Orleans Parish grand jury on his role in the investigation of the 1963 assassination.

A report of a tape recording which purportedly indicated a bribe had been offered for a statement to help substantiate Garrison's probe.

The application for the subpoena called on Richard Helms, CIA director, to produce before the grand jury a "true photograph" of Oswald and a burly Cuban which Garrison says was taken in front of the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City.

Garrison contends the photo was suppressed and a "fake photograph" was submitted in evidence before the Warren Commission.

Garrison wanted FBI agent Regis Kennedy to testify before the grand jury on his role in the assassination investigation, but U.S. Atty. Louis C. LaCour asked Criminal District Judge Bernard J. Bagert to quash his subpoena.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark had instructed Kennedy not to testify. Bagert ordered a hearing next Tuesday on the government's motion.

With reference to the tape recording, Garrison said, "It's not worth commenting on. The only thing important is the truth."

Michigan Time Won't Change For 2 Weeks

LANSING (AP) — Nervous clock watchers can relax. There won't be a time change in Michigan for at least two weeks.

It looked for a while Wednesday as if Michigan would zip ahead an hour—from Eastern Standard Time to Eastern Daylight Time.

The State Board of Canvassers stepped in with a slowdown, however.

The board refused to immediately certify petitions to put the the Daylight Saving Time issue on the November 1968 election ballot.

Instead the board decided to consider the issue May 24.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelly had argued that as soon as the petitions were stamped valid the state would go on Eastern Daylight Time. The action would nullify the state law exempting Michigan from daylight time, he said.

George Montgomery, state elections director, had alerted state officials that a fast time switch, might be in the offing.

Kelly and Montgomery had even agreed on a time for the switch at midnight, which they said would result in the least amount of confusion.

State Civil Service Director Frank Dewald had already started figuring out new schedules for state workers who would be affected by the change.

But a stubborn woman lawyer, Mrs. Zoe Burkholz of Benton Harbor, swung the board against making any fast moves on a time change.

"We should investigate the many matters raised," she insisted. "We can't possibly decide what to do without having a hearing."

Kelly later said the board's decision was "holding up the well of the people as expressed in the petitions."

Kelly was asked about the status of Dickinson and Gogebic counties plus part of Menominee County, all in western Michigan, where they are going to launch and supplied from nearby bases in the jungle and in North Vietnam.

While B52 bombers continued to pound those enemy bases in the northwest corner of South Vietnam, the Marine battlefront shifted 100 miles southeast Wednesday. In an eight-hour battle 23 miles southwest of the big U.S. base at Da Nang, the Marines reported killing 117 North Vietnamese regulars.

Marine casualties were 19 dead and 72 wounded.

Two State Men Die In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department reported Wednesday that two servicemen from Michigan have been killed in action in Vietnam.

The Michigan men were Navy Hospital Corpsman 3.C. Robin L. Chilcove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Chilcove of Grand Rapids, and Navy Hospital Corpsman 2.C. Elwood C. Bovey Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood C. Bovey Sr., of Rockwood.

U.S. Casualties Rise In DM Zone Battles

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. military headquarters today reported a sharp rise in American and enemy dead last week resulting from battles just below the demilitarized zone.

The weekly casualty report said 274 Americans were killed in action, equaling the previously weekly high recorded six weeks before. The U.S. Command said 1,903 enemy were killed, 731 more than the week before although not a record.

A total of 1,748 Americans were reported wounded last week, and 18 were missing or captured, the U.S. Command said.

The rise in casualties resulted from hard battles in the northernmost provinces, where U.S. Marines have been fighting off repeated Communist attacks launched and supplied from nearby bases in the jungle and in North Vietnam.

While B52 bombers continued to pound those enemy bases in the northwest corner of South Vietnam, the Marine battlefront shifted 100 miles southeast Wednesday. In an eight-hour battle 23 miles southwest of the big U.S. base at Da Nang, the Marines reported killing 117 North Vietnamese regulars.

The U.S. Command said about 175 men of the 3rd Marine Regiment hit a force of perhaps 300 North Vietnamese dug in on a 300-foot hill. About 300 more Marines quickly joined the fight and with artillery and air support battled the Communists until the Leathernecks took the hill.

One of the air strikes accidentally hit a Marine company, killing three Leathernecks and wounding 17.

U.S. spokesmen reported bloody engagements at scattered points in which it said a total of 278 Communists were killed.

Catch Reds In Open

The spokesmen said a Communist battalion was caught in the open this morning only about 30 miles northwest of Saigon. The first sudden strike by U.S. jets killed an estimated 53 Viet Cong, and throughout the day 23 more jet strikes were poured into the wooded area.

The Air Force reported catching another group of Reds in the open in the northern province of Quang Tri Wednesday and killing 45 of them.

The Air Force also reported the loss of an F100 Super Sabre jet to Red ground fire Wednesday, the 174th plane lost to enemy action in South Vietnam.

The pilot was killed.

Communist gunners also downed a troop-carrying helicopter in which three soldiers were injured. At least three more choppers were shot up and several more were slightly damaged in the Mekong Delta when their rotors set off Communist pressure mines in a landing zone.

U.S. headquarters reported that photo reconnaissance of Wednesday's raids against two power plants in the Haiphong area showed excellent results.

A spokesman said one power plant, just outside the city, was no longer serviceable and the other inside the city was badly damaged.

The Air Force said the Navy planes that struck the MIG airfield at Kien An Wednesday, just outside Haiphong, cratered the taxiway and both ends of the runway.

Mom Watches Wounded Son On Late News

LA GRANGE, Ga. (AP) — Mrs. A. Landon Morrow Sr. was watching a late news program on television and a film report on fighting in Vietnam caught her attention. Suddenly there was a familiar face in battle gear.

She looked, then shouted: "Come quick, Landon. Here's our son."

The camera had focused briefly on Spec. 4 Landon Morrow Jr., a radio operator, as the television newsmen described fighting in "Operation Manhattan."

As the La Grange couple listened and watched, the newsmen described an explosion that had wounded a captain and a radio operator. Then there was a film close-up of a soldier lying on the ground.

"We knew then that was our son," said Mrs. Morrow. "We didn't see the explosion but the next time they put the camera on him he was lying on the ground. There were two or three working on him. We could tell he was wounded."

The next day the Morrrows and their daughter-in-law received telegrams explaining that the 29-year-old soldier had been wounded but would survive.

State Department sources said the incident could indicate a further toughening of Moscow's attitude toward the United States as the Vietnam war intensifies.

Details Missing

But the sources added it could just be a case of an overzealous performance by Soviet sailors, similar to the nuisance-making they said the Soviets have been carrying out against American ships for some time.

Despite the U. S. protest, not all the details about the incident are available in Washington, officials said.

The Pentagon said the Soviet destroyer harassed the Walker and three other American ships for 90 minutes before the collision.

The Walker and two other destroyers, the Davidson and the Taylor, along with the carrier Hornet, were in training maneuvers as an antisubmarine task group in international waters off the northern tip of the Japanese island of Hokkaido, the Pentagon said.

Ignored Warnings

The Soviet ship ignored several warnings against coming too close to the American ships, the Defense Department said.

It added that the Besslednyi, a 425-foot destroyer, apparently wanted to observe the training.

The Defense Department said the Soviets made several close approaches, including two within 50 feet.

Sea Of Japan Scene Of Scrape After Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ignoring warnings, a Soviet warship brushed against the U.S. Navy destroyer Walker early today in a second incident of confrontation between American and Russian ships on the high seas, the Pentagon said.

The Walker was scraped by another Soviet ship Wednesday.

Today's incident occurred in the same general area of the Sea of Japan, about 300 nautical miles west-southwest of the Japanese island of Hokkaido.

The incident occurred when the Soviet destroyer turned into the Walker, despite the latter's warnings, a Pentagon statement said.

The Pentagon said the collision occurred at 1:33 a.m. EDT. As in Wednesday's bumping together of destroyers, "there were no casualties and only light damage was reported," the Pentagon said.

The Soviet ship, not identified by name, was described as a destroyer of the Krupnyy class.

On Training Cruise

The Walker, along with two other destroyers and the aircraft carrier Hornet, have been undergoing antisubmarine warfare training maneuvers in the Sea of Japan.

Wednesday, another Soviet destroyer — not the one involved in today's incident — made several close sweeps toward the American task group, coming as near as 50 feet on two occasions and finally bumping up against the Walker, causing minor damage.

The United States officially protested to the Soviet government over the first incident and was expected to file another complaint as a result of today's collision.

Sources view the Soviet actions as harassment.

The situation has taken on grave tones in view of the Vietnam war. Russia is a major supplier of war materials to North Vietnam.

U. S. officials said they would await details before trying to assess the significance of the Wednesday collision in the Sea of Japan. A Pentagon spokesman labeled it an accident, but the State Department said the fact the Soviets were repeatedly warned about coming too close to a group of American ships speaks for itself.

The State Department protested "close maneuvering and violations of the rules of the road" by the Soviet destroyer Besslednyi, resulting in her colliding with the USS Walker.

The scraping caused minor damage to the two ships and no one was hurt, the Pentagon said.

State Department sources said the incident could indicate a further toughening of Moscow's attitude toward the United States as the Vietnam war intensifies.

Hoffa Retrial Plea Is Denied Senators Probe Hiring Practices

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa was back in Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary today after a judge denied his fourth appeal for a new trial on a jury tampering charge.

U.S. District Judge Frank W. Wilson denied in Chattanooga, Tenn., Wednesday the appeal which had been based on an allegation by Hoffa and three co-defendants that the federal government used electronic eavesdropping and wiretapping during their trials at Chattanooga in 1961.

Hoffa, who had been taken to Chattanooga for the hearing was already on his way back to Lewisburg when Wilson issued the denial on the grounds that Hoffa's attorneys had failed to present any evidence at the hearing. Hoffa began serving his eight-year sentence at Lewisburg in March.

Coddefendants Elmer King and Thomas Ewing Parks of Nashville, Tenn., and Larry Campbell of Detroit were also returned to federal penitentiaries to continue serving three-year sentences on the charge.

Northern Will Give Two Honors

MARQUETTE — H. Stuart Harrison, president of Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., and Mrs. A. B. Roberts, local benefactor and outstanding citizen of Marquette, will receive honorary degrees from Northern Michigan University in commencement ceremonies June 4.

Harrison, who will deliver the commencement address, will receive the degree of Doctor of Laws. Mrs. Roberts, Marquette's only living direct descendant of one of the founders of NMU, John Munro Longyear, will receive the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters. She will be the seventh woman to receive an honorary degree from NMU in its 68 year history.

Conferring the degrees will be Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern.

Harrison, a native of Cleveland, became president of Cleveland-Cliffs in 1960 and was named chief executive officer in 1961. A graduate of Yale University, he joined Cliffs in 1937.

Harrison's business interests include membership in six boards besides Cleveland-Cliffs — the Cleveland Trust Co., Island Creek Coal Co., Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., Medusa Portland Cement Co., Midland-Ross Corp., Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. and the White Motor Co.

Mrs. Roberts has assisted students and financially aided institutions of high education and other public facilities. In 1957 she gave Northern an additional 40 acres of land adjoining the 100-acre Longyear Forest Tract which comprised the original campus of Northern when it was founded in 1899. The tract provides natural experimental facilities for botany and conservation courses.

She contributed a music collection to Marquette's Peter White Public Library, was a promoter and supporter of early Marquette theatrical productions, and has made exceptional contributions in the field of Marquette heritage and history.

House Outlaws Property Sale Curb By Race

LANSING (AP) — A bill to outlaw discrimination by real estate agents was passed 68-30 Wednesday by the Michigan House.

The measure sent to the Senate would make it a misdemeanor for any real estate broker or salesman to refuse on the basis of race, creed, color or national origin to show listed property to a prospective customer or to relay his bona fide offer to the owner.

A companion bill, also sponsored by Rep. James Del Rio, D-Detroit, would forbid a non-profit hospital service corporation to contract to provide services to any hospital which is biased in its admissions policies.

The House passed and gave immediate effect, meanwhile, to a Senate measure requiring school districts to carry a larger share of the responsibility for repaying their bonds.

The bond loan measure, which the governor was expected to sign quickly, was designed to ease what the State Municipal Finance Commission said is "a dire threat to the credit of the state."

Other bills approved would: — Help a fast-growing city, county or school district by permitting it to conduct a special census to determine its share of per capita rebates from state tax collections.

— Permit use of electronic voting devices.

— Require local health officers to test the quality of water at bathing beaches.

— Allow issuance of full-time work permits to 17-year-olds.

Court-Martial Of Captain Likened To 'Witch Hunt'

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — The court-martial of Army Capt. Howard B. Levy on charges of refusing to train Vietnam-bound soldiers stalled today as his civilian attorney argued for dismissal of the case.

Likening the court-martial to "a witch hunt," Charles Morgan of Atlanta asserted Wednesday that Levy's political activity before entering the Army motivated his commanding officer to increase the charges against the 30-year-old dermatologist.

Col. Earl V. Brown, law officer of the court-martial at nearby Ft. Jackson, took the motion under study and said: "I'm not going to allow this forum to be used by a person of the far right to vent his vengeance on one of the far left."

A decision on Morgan's dismissal motion was expected from Brown sometime today.

Brown has excused the 10-officer court until Friday. A law officer advises court members on points of law.

Nursing Home Aid

BOYNE FALLS (AP) — Federal and state aid will meet the increasing demand for nursing home patient care, delegates to the Michigan Nursing Home Association annual conference were told Wednesday.

Joseph Mash, president of the group, predicted that more than $71 million annually will be granted under Medicaid for patients in nursing homes.

Claim Migrant School Bullied

SHELBY (AP) — The supervisor of a day care school for children of migrant workers charged today that water has been cut off to the school, there has been "petty harassment" and "there is an air of hostility in the community."

Mrs. Jane Moog, the supervisor, said she and the teachers have to haul drinking water in pails, buckets and plastic containers three miles from the village of Shelby in which the school is located. The school, financed by federal antipoverty funds, is in its first season of operation.

"People have harassed us over the telephone," Mrs. Moog said. "The locks on the doors have been broken twice. A lot of our outdoor play equipment has been knocked over."

Shelby is in Oceana County in the heart of the western Michigan cherry-producing area. It is a quiet farm center dependent on migrant labor during the summer months.

House Okays Smoking At 18

LANSING (AP) — A bill to lower the state's legal cigarette smoking age from 21 to 18 won House approval Wednesday. The vote was 82-21.

The bill, which was sent to the Senate, also deletes penalties for minors who smoke in public.

Rep. Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, sponsor of the measure, said present law is unrealistic and is not enforced. By weakening it, he hopes to make it meaningful, Faxon said.

State law says smoking in public by anyone under 21 is punishable by a fine of up to $10 and a jail term of up to five days.

The bill would only allow a policeman to arrest a youthful smoker, confiscate his cigarettes and notify his parents or guardian.

The House defeated amendments that would have lowered the minimum age to 16 or 17.

A Growing Escanaba:

City's Record Budget To Finance Expansion

By CLINT DUNATHAN

An expanding community's increasing costs are represented in Escanaba's proposed budget for 1967-68, which is $911,562 above last year.

The total tentative budget is $4,064,715 compared to $3,153,152 a year ago.

This increase results primarily from the extension of our water distribution system to the western part of the community, the extension of water and waste water services to the industrial park, the expansion and improvement of our airport, and the proposed construction of a community building, reports City Manager George Harvey.

The capital outlay program is one of the largest in many years. The city will receive federal participation on one project, federal and state aid on another.

Public hearing on the proposed budget is at the City Council meeting to be held at 8 p. m. Thursday, May 18.

With federal and state aid, plus Bonifas money for a proposed recreation building, and a boost in the amount of tax revenues the city will come out with a balanced budget.

More Tax Revenues
The city's property valuation base on which the $14.50 tax rate (the same as the past three years) is being applied on the state equalized valuation—for the first time and as a state requirement.

"State law now requires that the tax levy be spread on the state equalized valuation rather than on the city equalized valuation," said the city manager. "This will result in an increase of approximately $60,000 in our revenues."

The valuation base increased because of this from $30,062,005 to $34,201,768.

The gain in revenue of about $60,000 represents approximately 1.75 mills. In other words, if the higher valuation had not been possible, the city tem as a utility operation as of July 1 this year.

Sewer Service Charge

In this Escanaba will be following a pattern nationally, where sewage collection and treatment are financed by the users. In the past Escanaba paid this from its general fund.

The rate schedule is based on 50 per cent of the water bill except for the summer period when it will be based on 40 per cent. This will bring in anticipated revenues of $82,500. Marquette's rate is based on 110 per cent, Ironwood 60, Manistiquet 100, Marinette 70 per cent, it was reported.

Salary increases are proposed which will increase the operating budget by about $73,000 in the year ahead, Harvey reported.

"Regular merit increases in accordance with the adopted compensation plan, and adjustments in our fringe benefit program, are contained in the operating budget," the city manager reported.

Benefits Noted

"In addition, a general wage increase of 5 per cent is included for all employees except fire personnel. At the request of their representatives, the Fire Department has been granted a 3 1/2 per cent wage increase along with a more liberalized premium pay policy."

Presently the city furnishes its employees with a life insurance policy of $750, which will be increased to $5,000 beginning July 1. The city grants eight paid holidays annually; and vacations of 1 week after 1 year, 2 weeks after 3 years, 3 weeks after 15 years, and 4 weeks after 25 years.

Each permanent employee is granted two weeks sick leave after each year of service. Sick leave can be accumulated to a total of three months.

After one year of service employees injured on the job receive full pay for six months.

For his hospital-medical insurance the employee pays $6 per month to cover his dependents and the city pays $15.55 per month. The basic policy provides $25 daily for hospital room.

Shorter Hours

City employees receive longevity pay and a retirement bonus. There is a municipal employee retirement system to which the employees and the city contribute in addition to social security. Police and fire personnel have their own pension system.

In addition to the 5 per cent increase in pay a shift differential pay plan is being instituted; with employees in the police and water departments getting an additional 10 cents for night duty.

Firemen received only 3 1/2 per cent pay boost at their request, with the proviso that a change be made in the premium pay: 1 1/2 time for Sundays, double time for holidays. Presently they receive premium pay but on a different formula.

Effective July 1 state law will reduce the duty week of firemen from 63 to 56 hours. This will result in the employment of three additional firemen in Escanaba, the city manager said.

Country Club Dinner Dance

Reservations for the spring dinner dance at the Escanaba Country Club to be held Saturday evening must be made by tonight. They may be made by calling 786-1701, 786-7297 or 786-5362.

The Spoiling Game

George Wallace, the governor of Alabama, whose wife, Lurleen, holds the office for him, is one of the most important figures now showing in the 1968 campaign for President.

Wallace is not going to be elected President, but he could very well upset the chance of the Republican nominee for election by slapping his strength with a third party issue.

It would be a gross error to regard George Wallace as a ridiculous political figure. He is a very shrewd one and he can create enormous mischief in national politics and he's now at work at it with very promising prospects.

Wallace runs Alabama as though he owned it. This should be understood in the assessment of what he might do in the national political arena. When Wallace ran his wife for Governor to keep it in the family she got the biggest majority in the state's history. The state senator who opposed her then led the fight for the governor in enacting an Alabama state law attempting to nullify the federal line against schools barring Negroes.

The first problem created by George Corley Wallace is one of understanding. When he says to a troubled America: "The real problem ain't race; the real problem is these intellectual liberals who take power and oppress people," he makes sense to a lot of Americans.

When he says "Any cab driver in Montgomery (Alabama) knows more about why we're in Vietnam than a Yale professor sitting up there in his ivory tower," he makes sense to a lot of people. "We've got to get all this theory out of things," he says.

When he says: "If I wasn't in tune with the people of Alabama they wouldn't have elected me governor," he means it and it's true.

The political question is: "Does the United States buy the Alabama attitude and the bumper sticker: 'Stand Up For America — Wallace For President'?" There are indications that it does in a big way — maybe 10 million votes worth. That can be a peck of trouble in a presidential race when the contest between the other two candidates is close.

In the 1964 Presidential preferential primaries in Indiana, Maryland and Wisconsin, Wallace won from 25 to 43 per cent of the vote. The implication is that George Wallace has the ear and the interest of millions of Americans when he talks about states' rights, preservation of the property ownership system, free enterprise, independent local government, Americanism, anti-Communism, and win in Vietnam.

When he is talking about these things Wallace means — and the message comes over very clearly to Americans north and south — Negroes. He calls them "Nigras" and he seldom mentions them and when he does it is to deny that he is a "racist."

Wallace says "I have never made a racist speech in my life, unless you count being for segregation as racist. I never talked against Nigras as people. I got nothing against Nigras. Southern folks had the most practical approach ever devised for this race business."

"What good are equal rights if it gets folks killed and ruins everything? You're safer in the worst part of Montgomery than on the New York subway. We got less integration but more mingling and more law and order. And what most folks of all races want is law and order."

No major religious faith in America tolerates such racism. It suggests slyly that if American whites, although they live in a colored world, will play it smart the Wallace way, and keep American Negroes deprived of full citizenship and equal opportunity, that all will be well. It makes a mockery of our morality, our religious faith and our code of citizenship but unreasoned fear of our Negro fellow citizens is so acute with so many people that it will be surprising if Wallace does not become a threat to our freedoms. To repudiate the devious immorality which he preaches would give America a shining hour.

Science And Cancer

The lesson to be learned from the recent controversy over the Rand cancer vaccine, and the one over Krebiozen that preceded it, is to recall the controversies that did not occur over the Salk polio vaccine and similar medical triumphs.

When the Salk vaccine was revealed to the world in 1955, it was not a rumor leaked to the press but a formal announcement backed up by years of painstakingly compiled clinical evidence.

Doctors in Cleveland, Ohio, first learned about the Rand vaccine in a newspaper story at the same time as the lay public, which was understandably highly excited.

Upon investigating, the Cleveland Academy of Medicine learned the following about the vaccine:

● That there had been no experiments with animal tumors to test its efficacy, no presentations at scientific assemblies and no critical review or evaluation of data.

● That experiments for toxic or other side effects had been performed on only one horse, 12 rabbits and 40 mice.

● That the vaccine did not meet the requirements of federal laws applicable to experimental drugs.

● That no controls or double blind studies were being employed. Vaccine was being released to any licensed M. D. or D.O. without regard for his experience in clinical investigation and without regard to methods for determining the effect of the vaccine.

"The best that can be expected from such experiments," said the academy, "is a series of uncritical anecdotal accounts without scientific value."

The U. S. judge who banned the manufacture of the vaccine used far harsher words in condemning Rand's methods.

The Rand vaccine or something like it may well ultimately prove to be a cure for cancer, or the first of many cures for various types of cancers that will eventually be discovered. We hope so.

Until the scientific community accepts and confirms such cures, much harm can result from their premature disclosure.

"A Few More Billion and We've Got It Made!"

Draft Protest Old

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Antidraft and antiwar marches are no special Vietnam war phenomenon. A study of old files makes today's opposition seem mild by contrast.

An 1865 report from Brig. Gen. James Oakes, acting assistant provost marshal general of Illinois, says in part:

"One county of the 13th District (Williamson) was obliged to be enrolled (for the draft) in the presence and by the aid of a company of cavalry . . .

"A military force had also to be sent into Fayette, Clarke, Coles, Morgan, Fulton and some other counties (to enforce registration) and a few men were killed and wounded on both sides before the disturbances were quelled."

"The most serious (draft registration) outbreaks occurred near Manchester, Scott County, 10th District, and at Charleston, Coles County, 7th District, to both of which places I was obliged to send a strong force, and many prisoners were taken and variously disposed of as provided by regulations and laws."

"Although but few actual collisions have occurred in the state, a bitter and dangerous temper has frequently been manifested and formidable combinations have existed in various localities, with the avowed purpose of armed resistance to the enforcement of the (draft) laws . . . I am entirely satisfied that the presence in the state of the requisite military force was all that prevented the bloody culmination of their threats in many localities, if not a general and formidable insurrection, especially toward the close of the year 1864."

"The grand cause—the only really guilty and formidable source of the dangers through which Illinois has passed—is to be found in the steady streams of political poison and arant treason which have been permitted to flow from the wicked, reckless and debauched newspaper press of the state. But for this, the enrollment and draft would have passed off with scarcely a ripple of disturbance . . . The government, with all its officers, aims and purposes, has been maligned, aspersed and defiled with a persistent fiendishness and a truculent hatred that would have seemed incredible and impossible."

President Lincoln's draft of July, 1863, aimed at raising 300,000 men. The numbers of 292,000 were drawn. But 40,000 failed to report for examination. 164,000 were exempted; 52,000 legally bought their way out with cash; 26,000 bought substitutes and 9,900 actually served personally.

An official U. S. government volume on the history of the draft says: "With the passage of the Enrollment (Draft) Act of 1863, organized resistance developed into mob violence such as the nation had never before witnessed. The bloodiest resistance occurred in New York City where four days of rioting took vengeance . . . Property damage ran into millions and deaths are said to have totaled a thousand."

Draft opponents and war-opposition groups were strong in the Revolutionary War. A Department of the Army pamphlet says that during the American Revolution, John Adams estimated that more than a third of the influential men were opposed to armed resistance.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the Files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago

Escanaba temperatures in April ranged from a low of 26 degrees to a high of 73 degrees. The average temperature was 44 degrees, which was 6 degrees above the April average here, according to the monthly weather report of Meteorologist W. T. Lathrop. Rainfall totaled 1.94 inches last month, which was a little below the normal.

50 Years Ago

Herman Gessner, a businessman of the city, spent a few days in Upper Peninsula cities, and reported that prices in Escanaba are lower than in many other cities in the Upper Peninsula. He claimed that Escanaba is selling groceries from 10 to 20 per cent lower than most of the cities in the vicinity.

Four Escanaba lads, Warren Horton, Franklin Buell, Wendell Joeges and Miles Brophy were the first to brave the cool water of Little Bay de Noc. One plunge, and that of the shortest possible duration, proved to be sufficient for the day.

World's strongest creature is the ant, said to be capable of picking up a load 50 times heavier than itself.

Letters To Ann Landers

BUDDY

I am a retired serviceman. During my tour of duty I had a good buddy who happens to be from your city. I haven't been able to contact him for the past two years. I am not sure if he is out of service or was wounded or killed in Vietnam.

I have written to the Department of Army twice, once not getting a reply and the other time getting an address, but the letter I sent to him was returned.

I am writing you in hope that you can locate his mother and perhaps I can find out what happened to him.

His name is Carlton Larsen S/Sgt. the U. S. Army.

If you can locate him or his mother I will include in your debt. Thank you.

SCHOOL MILLAGE

The statement reported in last evening's Escanaba Daily Press that we were in favor of additional millage is misleading.

We made this statement to support our position that the Board of Education must not continue to add to a budget which already exceeds the anticipated income by $300,000.

To our knowledge, at the present time, state aid will only equal that of last year, and, more than likely, will be decreased.

We believe that it is most unrealistic to continue to increase expenditures above the current year's level. We are of the opinion that the Board of Education should explore all possibilities for better utilization of school facilities, such as increasing classroom periods, flexibility of scheduling classes, or adding to the length of the school day.

Very frankly, we are opposed to a millage increase until all avenues of evaluation are explored.

Questionnaire Is Bit On Gamey Side

Dear Ann Landers: The teenagers here in Memphis think you are tuned in to our world like no other adult. You must get a ton of mail from teenagers or you must talk to a lot of kids because you really have the word. Nobody knows for sure where this thing got started, but the kids in my crowd, both guys and dolls, think it's pretty good.

I would like your opinion of this questionnaire and I know you will level. Please don't suggest I take it home and get my mother's views. If she saw it she would faint and we'd have to call the doctor. Here it is:

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gov. Edward T. Breathitt announced Kentucky would not have an entrant in this year's international frog jumping contest in California, saying, "Kentucky already has the fastest horses, the finest country hams and the doggondest politics of any state, and we would be exceedingly greedy to step in and claim the jumping frogs."

Making Progress: But Much To Be Done In Vietnam, Officer Reports

Lt. Cmdr. Robert W. St. Martin of Escanaba, home on leave after a year in Vietnam, says "we are making progress in Vietnam — but there is still much to be done for the people."

The Vietnamese have so little that almost anything is an improvement, the U. S. Navy officer told a Junior Class assembly at Holy Name High School. They need food, medicines, housing, education, he said.

For 12 months he has served as a supply officer at the Naval Support Detachment, Chu-Lai, establishing that activity in support of the U. S. Marines in that area.

Here he is visiting his family that includes his wife and four daughters, and his mother, Mrs. E. A. St. Martin of 509 S. 9th St.

He will leave the end of this month for Rennsaler Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., to continue his Navy education toward his Master's degree in industrial engineering.

Lt. Cmdr. St. Martin graduated in 1951 from Escanaba High School, attended Northern Michigan University for one year, and in 1953 was appointed to the U. S. Naval Academy from which he graduated in 1957.

He served on a destroyer at sea for two years, then was assigned to the Naval Supply Depot at Mechanicsburg, Pa., followed by service with the Navy at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and then was at the Naval Shipyard in Philadelphia before going to Vietnam.

'Better Ideas' Open Markets

DETROIT (AP) — Ford's "better ideas" are opening up new markets, a company executive said Wednesday.

A new process for rapid curing of paints, improvement of cutting tools and invention of a new battery were among the ideas cited by Dr. J. E. Goldman, director of Ford's scientific laboratory.

Speaking before the Financial Analysts Society of Detroit, Dr. Goldman said the new ideas may result in Ford's further expansion of sales of items other than autos. The company considers itself in related businesses such as glass, steel, defense and space, paints and vinyl products, he said.

Bucksar Seeks School Office

Richard G. Bucksar of Rte. 1, Escanaba, geography instructor at Bay de Noc Community College, Wednesday filed nominating petitions as a candidate for election to the Escanaba Area Board of Education.

He joins William F. DeHaan, 317 S. 3rd St., as the only two announced candidates for the two positions on the board which will be vacant with the expiration of the terms of Dr. Vernon Johnson and Kenneth Buckland.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions is 4 p. m. Saturday. The annual school election is Monday, June 12. Term of office for the school board is four years.

Born in Detroit, Bucksar spent most of his life in Belleville, Mich. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees in geography from Eastern Michigan University. He served as a master sergeant with the U. S. Army engineers during World War II and the Korean conflict.

Before joining the staff at Bay de Noc Community College, Bucksar taught part-time at the University of Toledo and was also an assistant professor of geography at Westchester State College in Pennsylvania. He has done graduate work at the University of Michigan.

He is married to the former Doris Seymour of Muskegon and the couple has three daughters.

AMC Recalls 13,245 Cars

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. Wednesday became the second of the four major U. S. automakers to recall cars because of problems with the new collapsible steering columns.

An AMC spokesman said the firm was recalling 13,245 American and Rebel 1967 models built in Canada. The shafts were defective on some models AMC checked, a spokesman said.

All of the cars are in the hands of customers, including 9,690 of them in the United States, the announcement said.

The firm blamed the defects it found on the installation technique used in Canada. The technique used in AMC's U.S. plants led to no problems, the auto maker reported.

AMC said it would check the cars involved for possible misalignment of the steering shafts. Such misalignment could cause binding which eventually could snap the shaft.

New shafts will be properly installed in the cars that have misaligned shafts, AMC said.

Novak Kids Help Detective Dad Tailing Suspects

DETROIT (AP) — For the Novak kids, a ride with daddy poses a lot more intrigue than most youngsters know.

Novak is a deputy inspector of the Wayne County Road Patrol and he has three little deputies, junior grade—Ann, 12, Michael, 8, and Richard, 7.

On five recent occasions, Novak said, he took his children along while keeping surveillance on a number of men suspected of crimes in western Wayne County.

Novak, a widower for two years, said he was unable to find a babysitter when the surveillance assignments arose.

He says, though, that things worked out well. The children were valuable camouflage in the work, Novak said.

Driving an unmarked car, Novak and his partner would try to keep close tabs on the suspects. "No one would ever suspect that we were police because we had kids in the car," he said. "If a suspect stopped for a hamburger, we could follow him into the restaurant with the kids, watch him, and not be suspected."

The Novak children also became experienced license plate spotters. Novak would give them the license number of a car under surveillance and tell them to watch for it. "The kids were very eager and could pick out the cars quickly," he said.

According to Novak, there was no danger in taking the children because they were only observing the suspects.

"We were trying to find out more about the suspects than they knew about themselves," Novak said. "We did not plan to make any arrests."

The trips with the children usually lasted from two to three hours. Except for an occasional stop at a restaurant, all of the time was spent in the car.

So far, 28 men have been charged with burglary, theft, and receiving and concealing stolen property as a result of the operation which ran from late January through early April. Novak said the suspects have been operating as a gang, with headquarters at a Dearborn heights bar and bowling alley.

Menominee Cattle Dealer Fined $400 In Federal Court

Leonard Linsmeier, livestock dealer, Menominee, was fined $400 in a Federal court April 20 for violating the registration and bonding requirements of the Packers and Stockyards Act, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has reported.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service said the consent judgment was entered in U. S. District Court for the Western District of Michigan at Marquette. The court permanently enjoined Linsmeier and his agents and employees from engaging in business as a livestock dealer without being registered and bonded.

The action resulted from a charge that Linsmeier operated as a dealer on 23 specific dates in 1966 without being registered and bonded under the P&S Act.

Highway Archeology Preserves Artifacts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Among highway workers, if they can't pronounce paleontology they just say "fossils and bones."

They've turned up items like dinosaur tracks discovered in Pecos County, Texas, while building U.S. Route 57. They've salvaged Indian mounds in Iowa and excavated prehistoric ruins in Arizona.

When bulldozer operators started digging for a section of Interstate 71 near Cleveland, Ohio, they set off one of the biggest fossil hunts ever undertaken in the United States. Scientists collected 10,000 specimens.

"Scientists evidently figure this is a big deal as far as they are concerned," James E. Kirk, a highways engineer of the Bureau of Public Roads, said in an interview. Congress has said that federal aid highway funds may be used in archeological and paleontological salvage in highway construction. It follows a national policy of preserving for public use sites such as Indian ruins, historic buildings, fossils or other objects of antiquity that have national significance.

Share Cost

Since 1956, under the Highway Transportation Act, 118 federal aid archeological and paleontological projects have been undertaken in 21 states. Their cost totals some $1.4 million, of which $1.2 million was in federal-aid funds.

The initiative for such projects must come from the states. Agreements for the work are made with museums, universities and state archeologists.

In the Right of Way and Location Office of the Bureau of Public Roads, Kirk and James A. Carney, a highway engineer, make sure that archeological and paleontological salvage get attention.

There are problems. Everybody has certain ideas about what is significant historically. Often even the experts can't agree.

Kirk said they leave it up to the professionals in the field.

For 17 months, from April 1965 to September 1966, workers under the direction of the Cleveland Natural Science Museum dug, chipped, pried and hammered to collect specimens of fossils from the Devonian Age of more than 350 million years ago when northern Ohio was covered by the sea.

Museum Project

The museum arranged the project after it was learned that a section of Interstate Highway 71 would cut through what was believed to be an important but heretofore inaccessible fossil formation.

Important scientists visited the site. Some schools sent bus loads of classes there.

William E. Scheele, museum director, said the road workers "Generally seemed to have more pride in knowing that something of value was coming from their excavating efforts aside from the creation of a new superhighway."

Scheele reported that "it appears that we have collected at least 10,000 major specimens of tremendous scientific value."

It may take 10 to 15 years to complete scientific analysis and description, he said, but there may be as many as 75 animals in all classes which are totally new to the world of science.

Many Projects

The Cleveland project cost some $119,000, of which 90 percent is from federal funds and the rest from the museum.

Other highway - archeology projects, by states, last year included:

Arizona — Exploration and excavation of prehistoric ruins in Mohave County.

Arkansas — Excavation and study by the University of Arkansas of an Indian village near Fishing Lake.

California — In Sacramento, excavation and salvage of historic building foundations associated with the gold rush days. Idaho — Excavation of an early Indian community area in Idaho County.

Illinois — Salvage of Indian artifacts in St. Clair County.

Iowa — Salvage of five Indian mounds in Lee County.

Nebraska — Archeological salvage of the historic Creighton House in Omaha.

New Mexico — Salvaging of several Indian sites in Grant County.

Tennessee — Investigations by the University of Tennessee in the vicinity of the Tennessee River crossing.

Utah — Salvage operations in the Silver Creek Junction interchange area.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY announced Wednesday at Hancock that it is joining the Copper Country Health and Welfare Council in setting up a medical student training program and health services plan for the six western Upper Peninsula counties. Present were, from left: Dr. Andrew D. Hunt Jr., dean of the MSU College of Human Medicine; Dr. Kenneth Rowe, public health director; Kenneth Bray, president of the Health Council; Sister Jean Francis, administrator of St. Joseph Hospital, Hancock; Sister John Kenneth, head of the St. Joseph Hospital Nursing School and secretary of the Health Council and Neil F. Bracht, assistant to Dean Hunt. (Daily Press Photo)

MSU Will School Doctors In U.P.

By JEAN WORTH
HANCOCK—Michigan State University, which has given service in agriculture, education, community development and other fields for so many years in its Extension activities, is coming to the U.P.'s western end with a national innovation in medical service. State is adding a College of Human Medicine to its university and the first year class—26 students—is now studying at East Lansing.

In a compact signed here yesterday by MSU and the Copper Country Health & Welfare Council, Inc., the medical students nurses and sanitarians of the new medical complex at State will get part of their training in the six western counties of the Upper Peninsula.

New concept
In the process of learning at first hand in a revolutionary new concept of medical schooling about the patient and the community, the student doctors will also perform medical and health education services for the area. They will do this for the Copper Country Health and Welfare Council, whose membership is drawn from all elements of the six county area. Michigan Technological University had a major role in the planning of the Health & Welfare Council project with MSU and will tie into the program. Its Dr. Carl Moyer is head of the Council's Health, Cancer & Stroke Committee and its President Ray Smith spoke at Wednesday's announcement lunch on at Gino's here.

The other committees of the Council serve alcoholism, retardation, aging, fluoridation, education, health facilities, medical care facilities and other subjects. Kenneth Bray of Catholic Social Services is president; John Clements is vice president and Sister John Kenneth, head of the Nursing school at St. Joseph Hospital here is secretary.

MSU Goals
The program was explained at Tech last night to the Copper Country Medical Society by Dr. Andrew D. Hunt, Jr., dean of the College of Human Medicine at MSU. He said that it would work with the established medical services of the area and supplement them, not replace them.

"This is a wonderful day for us, too," said Dr. Hunt at the luncheon meet. "This relationship is unique in the history of universities, medical schools and communities. It is a new kind of arrangement and we don't know what it will be like 10 or 15 years from now. Our development of a medical school at MSU has led to a profound examination of goals and objectives and we all agreed that it should be geared toward community needs. Its basic responsibility will be to serve the needs of the people of Michigan. So it will change and it is hard to see what it will be like 20 years from now."

Tech President Smith said that the Council had brought off a "cooperative phenomenon" in the program with MSU to provide a comprehensive health care plan and to train medical and other health service students in a rural setting. He said Tech would provide bio-chemical, biological and perhaps bio-engineering services to the project and help wherever possible.

Neil F. Bracht, assistant to Dean Hunt on community affairs, said that enthusiasm for service of medical and nursing students is highest ever at the beginning of their studies and that present organization of instruction puts a barrier before this great motivation, requiring students to wait until they are schooled.

John LaBranche

The Escanaba Area Jaycees Wednesday evening elected John LaBranche of 400 S. 10th St. its president for the 1967-68 year.

LaBranche has been a member of the Jaycees since February of 1965. He earned the Spoke award, an award presented to a Jaycee for outstanding participation during his first year of membership. During his first year of membership he was the records and recognition chairman, and last year he has worked as treasurer of the Escanaba Area Jaycees.

LaBranche said he plans on working on the internal activities of the club, and that he will strive to make the Jaycees a better organization through better community projects.

Bracht said MSU rejects the philosophy that there isn't much to learn about the patient until the practitioner has finished his schooling. Students have done great work in California in Head Start projects, he said.

Long Range Plan
Dr. Kenneth Rowe, public health official and Council leader, said "in the future we have a vision of senior medical students and interns delivering needed services to the Copper Country. We hope that the program will help medical recruitment. We plan to prove that quality medicine can be provided in a rural situation. The Council will be responsible for implementing the basic content of the experiment and providing the experience for the students."

James Gooch, director of continuing education for MSU in the Upper Peninsula said that the specific techniques of the program remain to be worked out. The program will not be fully implemented for five years or more because the College of Medicine is just starting and its rate of development is made somewhat uncertain by the state's financial problems.

Area Jaycees Pick Officers

The Escanaba Area Jaycees Wednesday evening elected John LaBranche of 400 S. 10th St. its president for the 1967-68 year.

LaBranche has been a member of the Jaycees since February of 1965. He earned the Spoke award, an award presented to a Jaycee for outstanding participation during his first year of membership. During his first year of membership he was the records and recognition chairman, and last year he has worked as treasurer of the Escanaba Area Jaycees.

LaBranche said he plans on working on the internal activities of the club, and that he will strive to make the Jaycees a better organization through better community projects.

LaBranche is employed with the Alto Funeral Home and is married to the former Estelle Furo. They have a two and a half year old son, Gregory. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred LaBranche of 414 S. 6th St.

Cold Weather Will Continue

The U. S. Weather Bureau offered little hope today for the shivering residents of the Upper Peninsula, but did report that perhaps it won't be quite so wet tomorrow.

Forecast calls for cloudy and continued cool weather through Saturday, at least, though the probability of precipitation will decline to about 10 per cent Friday.

More cloudy and cold weather with occasional rain mixed with snow was predicted for today and tonight with the lows settling down to freezing again. Low last night was reported to be 32.

Escanaba, however, escaped the worst of Wednesday's weather, receiving only a trace of the wet snow which fell throughout most of the area.

It was gone by morning. Iron Mountain reported about four inches of the soggy white on the ground this morning and a similar amount fell at Marquette.

Varying amounts of snow fell throughout the rest of the area, beginning late Wednesday afternoon and continuing into the evening.

Wilderness Is Supported For Seney Refuge

By KENNETH S. LOWE

Nearly all of the 19 persons who testified at a public hearing in Marquette Wednesday agreed that the Huron Islands and a large portion of the Seney National Wildlife Refuge should be included in the National Wilderness Preservation System.

None of the 19 expressed objection to official wilderness designation for the eight small Huron Islands lying in Lake Superior off the north shore of Marquette County.

And only two objected to wilderness status for 20,000 acres of the 95,150-acre Seney refuge in Schoolcraft County. In fact, several of those who testified urged that the 20,000-acre tract be expanded to 26,000 acres to encompass practically all of a unique "string bog" area within the refuge.

Daniel H. Janzen, Greenville, S.C., former director of the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, conducted the hearing for the Department of the Interior. The hearing was held in University Center at Northern Michigan University.

Light On Island
First to testify was Frank R. Martin, Minneapolis, assistant regional supervisor, Division of Wildlife Refuges, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, who described the two areas and outlined his agency's proposals for the two areas.

The Coast Guard, he said, maintains a station, lighthouse and boathouse on Huron Island, although "the station may be abandoned some time in the future if certain automatic devices are installed on the islands." East Huron Island is under the primary jurisdiction of the Army Corps of Engineers as a potential site for rock quarrying to build breakwaters, but the Corps "does not see any demand for quarry rock in the foreseeable future."

Established in 1905 by President Theodore Roosevelt as the Huron Islands National Wildlife Refuge, the islands now support a large herring gull nesting area. An interesting feature of the islands is deep glacial grooving on the exposed granite dating to the Pleistocene period. The islands encompass a total of 147 acres lying three miles offshore from the Huron Mountains.

Unique Bogs
The 20,000 to 26,000-acre area proposed for wilderness classification in the Seney Refuge lies in the northwest portion of the sanctuary and is bordered on the north by M-28 and on the west by the Creighton Truck Trail.

Martin said unique string bogs developed in this area as trees and other vegetation became established on extinct sand dunes. He said it is planned that wildlife management for bald eagles and timber wolves and other native species would dominate use of the area under the wilderness proposal.

"Some logging income may be lost locally, but this would probably eventually be compensated for by income visitors responding to the appeal of the wilderness and associated recreation-oriented areas in the vicinity," Martin said.

Helping Nature
"As a wilderness area, the bureau would continue to allow hunting (in this part of the refuge), but camping, now allowed during the deer season, would be terminated. In addition to reducing the likelihood of fire, this restriction would help maintain the natural beauty of the area."

Those who objected to the Seney proposal were Dr. Herford Garland, Houghton, vice chairman of Forum on Resources of Upper Michigan (FORUM), and Bruce G. Buell, Chassell, a retired forester.

Garland said that wildlife protection is the primary concern of the refuge but that timber management is an important secondary use, which he called "a significant factor contributing to the economy of the region."

of wilderness is relative, varying according to an individual's background. What is regarded as true wilderness by some persons is not considered wilderness by others, he said.

"I cannot in any way subscribe to the idea that we are better off to have any changes subject to the control of the politicians in Washington rather than to have such decisions in the hands of the staff of the National Park Service, the Forest Service, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife," he said. "These men are well-trained, competent and for the most part are far more dedicated to the best interests of the people than many of said politicians."

Sisson Testifies
Buell said intensive management is needed in a waterfowl refuge like Seney and that "nature unaided cannot do this intensive job" in a wilderness area.

Dr. Ellsworth Barnard, Marquette, representing the Marquette County Chapter of the Michigan Audubon Society, who said FORUM's objections to the Seney proposal were to be expected because FORUM also opposed establishment of the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore. He defended wilderness areas as useful as sources of knowledge in the sciences and as sources of "profound and lasting satisfaction" to persons seeking escape from urban living.

Testimony supporting the wilderness proposals also was presented by Jack Sisson, Escanaba, representing Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

Following a review of the testimony by the Secretary of the Interior, recommendations will be made by him for congressional action on the proposals.

Trout Top List For Fishermen

Trout fishing is relatively poor in the Delta County area with some fish being taken from the two branches of the Whitefish River, the Conservation Department reports.

Sucker spearing has been popular this year with more people than ever taking advantage of the sport, however, the run is now tapering off. Warm weather should improve the trout fishing and the carp run is now on in the bays. Spearing of these fish is legal south of the line from Squaw Point to Saunders Point, but not in the upper bay.

In the Ensign-Nahma area streams are in normal condition and fair success has been had on the Haymeadow, 18-Mile and Sturgeon. Camp 7 Lake has been good for rainbow and Square Lake for brook trout. Sucker runs are finished.

Some Coho are being taken by trolling at the mouth of the Anna River in the Munising area. Rainbow runs have not fully developed probably due to cold weather. Many trout have been observed rolling at the mouth of the Mosquito but no fish seen in the river. A warning trend should improve activity.

Irwin and Cherry lakes have been the best inland lake producers, but success generally has been spotty. Stream fishing for brook trout is very slow.

Coho and rainbow head the activity list in the Chatham area with good success being had from the Laughing Whitefish and Rock and their mouths. High water and cold weather has held brook trout success down, however, the slapsack, Black, Johnson, Au Train and Rock have produced some fish. Good catches of Menominee being made at the mouth of the Rock River.

The Gwinn area finds streams still high and cloudy and lakes high and clear. The Escanaba River system and Johnson, Swanzy and Big Trout lakes are producing some trout with several rainbow in the 20-30 inch class being taken from Johnson Lake. Fair walleye fishing is being had on Little Lake.

Coasters and a few rainbow are being taken by trolling with spinning lures in Lake Superior out of Big Bay. Coho and rainbow are being taken off the mouth of the Carp and Dead rivers.

Special Art Exhibit Opens Monday In Rock

The Rock High School is having a special art exhibit of 36 original prints dating back to the 15th century and running through the 20th century. The prints are originally from the Kresc Art Center.

One of the most exciting art forms and one that has enjoyed a surge of renewed interest by artist and public alike, is that of printmaking. In this unique process the artist produces multiple works, all of which are equally original.

This exhibition offers a selection of fine prints encompassing the past 400 years, beginning with an anonymous 15th century woodcut, through the time of Durer, Delacroix, Manet, and Blake, to many 20th century artists including Matisse, Kandinsky, Miro and Rouault. There are woodcuts, engravings, etchings and lithographs in the collection.

From Jackson
This exhibit comes to Rock from Jackson, Mich., where it has been on display in the Ella Sharp Museum. It is traveling under the auspices of the Michigan State Council for the Arts.

B. & P.W. Club Members Hear Of Russian Life

Members of Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club, meeting at the Sherman Hotel Tuesday evening, enjoyed a glimpse of modern day Russia when they heard John Ptacek, director of Carnegie Public Library, describe his trip there last September.

Ptacek, who has traveled all over the world, sailed from Montreal to Leningrad aboard the Russian liner, Alexander Pushkin.

Landing in Leningrad, Ptacek was amazed at the size of the naval base there and stated that Russia is building one of the largest fleets in the world. After having their luggage checked for gold and foreign stamps which cannot be brought into Russia and showing identification and passports to the police at the "Gates of Hell," passengers were taken by bus to their hotel.

In Leningrad he stayed at an old hotel and was given a private room with bath at a rate of $19 per day. After checking in, he left the hotel alone for a look at the city. He was under no surveillance at any time but was stopped by teen-agers who offered to buy some of his clothes. This, like exchanging money, can be a dangerous practice.

Toured Moscow
From Leningrad, Ptacek traveled the 400 miles to Moscow by train which he compared favorably with our trains. In Moscow, he stayed at the National Hotel which is located on Red Square directly across from the Kremlin. He was surprised to learn that pedestrians can enter the Kremlin grounds without being stopped by the police, although cars are stopped. The Kremlin is located on a 14 acre tract and contains three cathedrals, palaces and two theaters.

Ptacek found the Russian people extremely interested in Americans visiting their country and one of his favorite souvenirs is a change purse given to him by three small boys who stopped him on the street. He was amazed to find that teen-agers speak English fluently without a trace of an accent.

Compulsory Education
Education is compulsory to the tenth grade and after that, anyone who can meet the minimum standards and wants to improve himself can do so at government expense, if necessary. Thirty thousand students attend the largest university and among them are 14 Americans. As a librarian, Ptacek was interested to learn that more books are published in Russia than in the rest of the world combined, with Jack London and Ernest Hemingway the favorite American authors.

The streets of Moscow are immaculate and are cleaned by women who also work on railroad tracks, construction jobs, etc., however, 80 per cent of the doctors are also women.

There is equality between the sexes with equal pay for equal work. The lowest wage is equivalent to $12.00 per week and factory and office workers earn from $25.00 to $30.00 per week. Rent, however, is based on 5 per cent of earned income, there are no medical fees and pensions are based on 60 per cent of income.

No Night Clubs
Night clubs are non-existent in Russia. Ptacek stated, but certain restaurants are permitted to stay open from 11 p.m. to 5 a.m. for the benefit of foreign visitors and only foreign currency can be used. There are also stores which sell luxury items and it is necessary to use foreign currency. Tourism is increasing in Russia with 100,000 foreigners visiting there last year, including 11,000 Americans.

At a short business meeting, the following officers were elected to serve for the next year: Ardyth Flaherty, president; Emily Williams, 1st vice president; Angeline Hakes, 2nd vice president; Lorraine Hiller, recording secretary; Kay Spiker, corresponding secretary and Lou Morin, treasurer. Mrs. Jack Hogan was a guest at the meeting which was in charge of the nominating committee consisting of Caroline Nyström and Angeline Hakes.

South American Petrochemicals Get Aid Of Dow

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A vast, integrated chain of chemical plants stretching through South America from the Caribbean to the Straits of Magellan is well into the planning and financing stage.

Governments and private investors, including the giant Dow Chemical Co., of Midland, Mich., are putting up hundreds of millions of dollars to establish the industry. They hope to have it in full operation early in the 1970s.

Chile, Colombia and Venezuela have been working toward establishment of the multicountry complex for almost a year. Peru is said to be showing increasing interest and the belief here is that Ecuador may come around after it sees what its neighbors are up to.

President Eduardo Frei of Chile and others say they believe that establishment of the petrochemical industry will be a major step toward a Latin American common market.

Create Jobs

As envisioned, the chemical industry will create tens of thousands of jobs, stimulate establishment of consumer goods industries around the raw material-producing plants and cut down on hard-currency spending as the countries begin producing what they now import.

Petrochemicals are a natural for every country on the west coast of South America, plus Venezuela, officials say. Every nation has a petroleum industry whose refineries produce by-products which can be turned into petrochemicals.

The market, they believe, is virtually limitless. Chile, with a higher standard of living than many of its Latin-American neighbors, still consumes only about a kilo plastic per capita per year, compared with an estimated 20 kilos per capita in the United States.

Chile Has Big Plans

Chile plans to get into the chemical business in a big way upon completion of a chlorine and caustic plant in 1968 and an ethylene plant in 1969. Construction of a three-plant complex producing polyethylene and polyvinyl chloride (PVC) is to begin in time to have these plants operational by early 1970, using materials from the two plants completed earlier.

The polyethylene and PVC plants, whose cost is estimated $24 million, are to be owned 70 per cent by Dow and 30 per cent by Petroquímica Chilena Ltda., the government-owned chemical company.

The first two segments of the Chilean industry are to be built near Concepcion, Chile's third largest city and second port and the site of a new ENAP refinery.

Near Punta Arenas

The largest of the four complexes, an ammonia facility costing up to $80 million, is to be built far to the south near Punta Arenas on the Straits of Magellan at the tip of South America.

Japanese, U.S. and European interests have approached the government about participation in the ammonia complex, officials say, and a decision is expected later this year on foreign participation.

The aromatics complex, which will turn out materials for the plastics and textile industries as well as for resins and detergents, will be of undetermined size in a location still to be picked. Officials will encourage private Chilean companies to build factories using imports until the volume builds up enough to justify the government oil company's construction of the complex.

Bark River

May Crowning

The traditional May Crowning by members of Our Lady's Sodality was held Sunday evening in St. George Church, Diane Kwarciany, a senior at Holy Name High School, Escanaba, was chosen to reign as May Queen. Her attendants were Jerine Barr, Mary Jo Kleiman and Judy LeBeau. The court of honor included members of this year's first communion class and Brenda Hurtibese acted as crown-bearer. Officers of the Sodality led the rosary and the ceremony of the crowning closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

First Communion

Twenty-three children will receive First Holy Communion at the 9:30 Mass Sunday, May 14. The children have been preparing for this event since last October under the direction of Sister Margaret Henry of St. Thomas. They will receive the Sacrament of Penance on Wednesday. On Saturday morning at 10:30 the final rehearsal will be held and they will also be enrolled in Our Lady's Scapular.

The children will join with their families and the entire congregation in the Mass of Participation on Sunday and special music will be presented by the Junior Choir. Mary Lee Nault and Cathryn Knauf will act as Guardian Angels.

Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lalich, Jr. of 2460 Baseline Road, Niagara Falls, N. Y., are the parents of a 7 pound, 15 ounce son, Michael Jeffery, born Thursday, May 5, at Deaconess Hospital in Buffalo, N. Y. Mrs. Lalich is the former Mary Lee Brunelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brunelle of Bark River and the father is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lalich, Sr. of Gladstone. This is the first grandchild for both families.

Ruppe Studies Import Hurts

WASHINGTON — Congressman Phil Ruppe stated today that a special unit of the House Education and Labor Committee is conducting hearings through the month of May, on the impact of foreign imports on industry and labor. Ruppe is to testify before the special committee, and asks the views of Northern Michigan residents who are affected by foreign imports.

"Because labor and material is cheaper in foreign countries," Ruppe said, "many of our laboring and business people are being seriously hurt by massive imports of foreign products. It is important that Congress discover those laboring groups and industries who are adversely affected, and to afford protection."

Ruppe said he is already working on behalf of a number of groups on the 11th District, "who are being directly harmed by the imports." He listed dairy farmers, milk producers, potato farmers, fish producers, beef producers, and a concrete block equipment manufacturer as being among those suffering setbacks directly related to foreign competition.

Trenary

The month of May is Senior Citizen Month and a welcome is extended to all senior citizens in the Trenary - Chatham area to attend a meeting on May 15 at 1 p. m., at the Trenary Town Hall. Mrs. Marian Fink, director of the Senior Citizen's Club in Munising, will be present to assist with programming for the newly formed club. Games will be played and lunch will be served.

Renee Marie Hawley, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hawley, was baptized by Rev. Michael Hale at St. Rita's Church last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brant are the baby's sponsors.

The installation of officers of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church has been rescheduled for Sunday, May 14 at the 9 a. m., service.

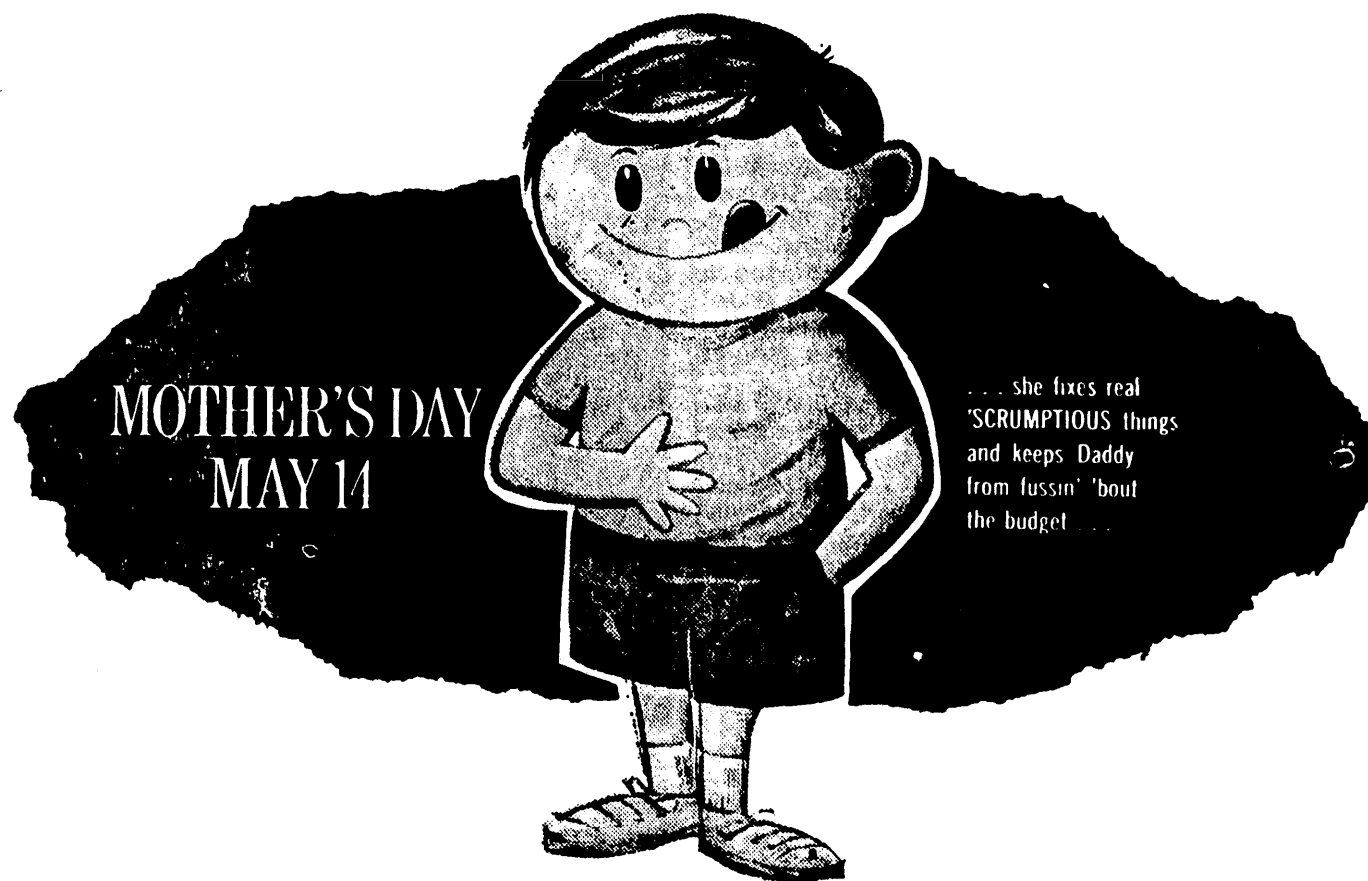

The Trenary Lions Club is in the process of building permanent structures to house the 4th of July activities in connection with their annual celebration. Work bees have been scheduled for each Saturday afternoon and every second and fourth Tuesday evening between now and July 4. Work is being done on the newly graded and seeded property adjacent to the Midget League Baseball Park. The building committee is under the chairmanship of Hans Hallinen.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Ouellette have returned to their home here after spending the winter in Flint.

MANISTIQUE

Thompson Creeks Have Good 'Bows

Erratic weather has produced a fishing stalemate. Streams are dropping back to normal but main portions of the Tahquamenon and Manistique rivers are still very high, the Conservation department reports.

The Black River is producing fair results for rainbow, with fish ranging to 6 lb. Steelhead fishing is improving in the Two Hearted River. Fish are being taken from the Ohio camp, in the headwaters to the mouth, and on the East branch below Shamrock Rapids. Some nice fish were taken in the vicinity of the Reed and Green bridge and the mouth of the East branch. Seven rainbows in the 5-lb. class were taken Saturday near the mouth. Seven to 12 fish per day are being lifted over the weir. The main spring run has not developed yet.

A good run of rainbow in the creeks in the Thompson area (Lake Michigan watershed) is noted. Some fair catches have been made in Dodge and Island lakes.

At present, better lifts are being made over the Sucker River lamprey weir than the Two-Hearted. A fisherman has said "No wonder, there are so many fishermen on the Two-Hearted the fish don't have a chance to get to the weir." Some 'bows are taken on the Sucker and Hurricane rivers and Baker and Sable creeks in the Grand Marais area.

Latest report of coho salmon taken (unconfirmed) were two by Bill Beaudou of Detroit at the mouth of the Sucker River near Kahle park.

A few lake trout in the 6-8 lb. class were taken in Grand Sable Lake adjacent to the sand dunes with smelt for bait. An unconfirmed report of a 5 lb. splake taken in West Bay at Grand Marais was reported. Since opening weekend splake fishing has been slow on Petty Lake in Luce County. Those planted last fall in Holland Lake "appear to be happy, for they were observed jumping all over the place" the Department reports.

Brook trout fishing has been slow. Few were taken. They were evident in trout lakes but fussy. Fishing is improving in the streams with a few good catches reported from the Two-Hearted, Sucker and Little Two-Hearted. Some brown trout were reported taken on Long Lake in north Luce County. The best lure was a No. 16 black knat, on cloudy days or in the evening.

Fair yellow perch catches were reported from the Potagan-nissing area, Indian and Big Manistique lakes. Strong shifting winds made fishing difficult on these large lakes.

A few good catches of wall-eye were reported in the north and east portions of Big Manistique lakes. Minnows are preferred bait. Fishing should improve within a week or so.

The smelt run is about over and was poor this year. The Department reports. Best runs occurred in daytime.

White and long-nosed suckers are beginning to ascend streams in all Great Lakes watersheds. The white suckers, sometimes called black suckers, as they are darker in spawning periods generally precede the Long-nosed suckers upstream. White suckers are considered the better of the two for smoking.

Black crappies have not been reported taken. This large member of the sunfish family comes into shoal waters at this time of year. Brevort Lake is usually a good producer.

The mouth of the Cut River on the north side of Brevort is a good area to catch these. They are taken by fly fishing with "bugs" or by using small minnows.

Bluegills can be taken quite readily at this time of year in shoal waters of prominent bluegill lakes. They come into shallow, warmer water to feed heavily on terrestrial insects that wash into the lake. Neazer and Long Bay on Whitefish Lake, Worthy bay on Brevort Lake and East and Twin lakes in Schoolcraft County are all good possibilities.

Good menominee catches are reported on Lake Superior off Sable Creek and Hurricane River. They are fair off the Sucker River, in Alger County, fair off Blind Sucker River, and good in the Big Two-Hearted and off the mouth of the Two-Hearted. The best fishing is with an off-shore wind.

Pay of reserve basketball officials was raised $1 to $8.50. Use of sick leave credit for advanced studies was approved for two teachers.

Superstar Of Future Optioned To Minors; Tigers Drop Pitcher

By The Associated Press
Veteran pitchers hurling shut-out baseball and veteran hitters batting over .300 were among the cut-down casualties, but the biggest sparks may fly from the optioning of a rookie hitting .194.

He is first baseman Mike Epstein, touted as a future superstar, optioned by Baltimore to their Rochester farm club before Wednesday night's major league deadline to reach the 25-player limit.

"Mike said he was very disappointed and might not report to Rochester," said Oriole Manager Hank Bauer.

Epstein, 24, the minor league Player of the Year at Rochester last season, declined comment after meeting with Bauer and Harry Dalton, Baltimore director of player personnel.

"I pointed out the opportunities to him," Dalton said, "but it's his career and it's his decision."

Among those once highly publicized veterans to get pink slips were Ralph Terry, Bill Monbouquette, Gordy Coleman, Manny Jimenez and Bob Buhl.

Atlanta hospitalized ace right-hander Tony Cloninger, 1-1, for an indefinite period. The former 20-game winner, who has not pitched since April 26 because of a pulled back muscle and a virus infection, is suffering from an eye problem.

The Los Angeles Dodgers

traded infielder John Werhas to the California Angels for outfielder Len Gabrielson and the New York Mets purchased third baseman Ed Charles from Kansas City for $60,000 and minor league outfielder Larry Elliot. The Mets also bought utility infielder Bob Johnson and pitcher John Miller from Baltimore.

Epstein was unable to beat out Boog Powell at first base with the Orioles and Curt Blefary in the outfield, and Baltimore was unable to trade him when other teams would not meet its price. He had only two singles in 13 at bats.

"If he fails to report," Dalton said, "He'll be placed on the inactive list."

Terry, 31, a 10-year veteran who starred for the New York Yankees in the 1962 World Series, was given his unconditional release by the New York Mets although he did not allow a run in two relief appearances of 3-1-3 innings.

Detroit placed Monbouquette on waivers when he refused to report to the minors. He owns a no-hit game in 1962 with the Boston Red Sox during his nine-year career and won 20 games for the Sox in 1963.

Coleman, 32, a first baseman, was optioned to Buffalo after seven years with Cincinnati. He helped the Reds to the pennant in 1961 when he hit .287, had 26 homers and 87 runs batted in.

Jimenez, 28, a sensation with Kansas City in 1962 when he led the league part of the season, was returned to the minors by Pittsburgh despite his homer and double in six at-bats.

Buhl, 38, with 166 major league victories after a 6-8 season in 1966, was placed on waivers by Philadelphia in order to give him his release.

Torres Is 'Up' For Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Jose Torres says he's "psychologically up" for his title fight with Dick Tiger and predicts he will knock out the Nigerian "within 10 rounds" next Tuesday night.

That's when the two veterans will meet in a return 15-rounder for the light-heavyweight crown at Madison Square Garden.

Tiger, a 3-1 underdog, lifted the crown from the listless defender on a unanimous decision at the Garden, Dec. 16.

Despite the defeat, the 31-year-old Puerto Rican-born Torres has been made a 9-5 favorite over the 37-year-old Nigerian.

"I'll knock his brains out," said Torres Wednesday. "I'm psychologically up for this fight. I feel good. I was bad—very bad—in the first fight. I didn't jab enough and I didn't punch enough."

"I had many opportunities to knock him out but I didn't take advantage of the openings. I know the openings will be there again and this time I'll be ready for them."

Suppose he loses? "I'll definitely retire if I lose," said Torres. "I and I may even quit if I win."

Torres said the pancreas injury inflicted in a fight with heavyweight Tom McNeely on July 31, 1965, bothered him again before his last fight with Tiger.

Horton Homers, Tigers Win 4-2

CLEVELAND (AP)—Willie Horton said he doesn't know what kind of a pitch he hit for his first home run of the season.

It didn't matter. The blast enabled the Detroit Tigers to whip the Cleveland Indians 4-2 Wednesday night, extending their winning streak to five games.

The two-run homer gave Horton his first two RBIs of the season. He missed 15 games with an injured left leg and achilles tendon.

"I don't know what kind of a pitch it was," said the stocky Horton. "He threw it to me before so I made up my mind not to pull it and hit straight away."

The ball landed in dead center field, 407 feet from the plate.

Horton also demonstrated that his bad leg was in good shape, scoring from second on a single by Norm Cash in the fourth.

"I was hoping Norm would get a hit because I wanted to test the leg," said Horton. "It feels all right once I get it warmed up but it still hurts. I just wanted to make sure it would hold up when I ran hard."

And it felt good."

While Mickey Lolich, with relief help from Fred Gladding, held the Indians at bay, the Tigers pounced on Cleveland starter Sonny Siebert for two runs on four hits in the fourth inning. Cash and Jim Northrup got the RBIs with base hits.

Cleveland scored a run in the third on Larry Brown's homer off Lolich.

Horton's two-run blast in the sixth followed a walk to Al Kaline and gave Detroit a 4-1 lead.

Gladding took over in the ninth when Lolich got into trouble. With one out, Joe Azcue singled and moved to third on Chico Salmon's double. Gladding came in and got pinch-hitter Fred Whitfield on an infield grounder, with Azcue scoring. Then he fanned Duke Sims to wrap up Lolich's fourth victory in five decisions.

"He (Sims) was still looking at the first curve I threw him so I decided to give him another," said Gladding.

Sims took it on a 3-2 count for a game-ending third strike.

The save was Gladding's fourth of the season and his second in two days.

Detroit got down to the American League's 25-player limit after the game by releasing catcher Chris Cannizzaro outright to Toledo of the International League and asking waivers on pitcher Bill Monbouquette.

Monbouquette was asked to go down to the minors at Toledo, but he refused to report to the Mud Hens. If Monbouquette is not claimed by another major league club within three days, he will become a free agent.

The 30-year-old right-hander was obtained from the Boston Red Sox in a 1965 trade which gave Boston reserve infielder George Smith and outfielder George Thomas.

At the time, Detroit was considered to have pulled off a major coup, but Monbouquette faltered badly last year, winning seven and losing eight. He saw only limited action this season.

Extra Pounds Not Needed As Torre Slugs Homers

By The Associated Press
Joe Torre, whose home run output once went up with his weight, has found he didn't need the extra pounds after all.

The big Atlanta catcher slugged down over the winter to around 205 pounds, about 10 below the weight he carried when he rose to National League stardom.

With three homers in the Braves' doubleheader split with the Phillies Wednesday, Torre showed that the streamlining hadn't hurt him a bit.

Torre knocked one over the left-field stands in the first game, which Philadelphia won 4-3. He added two more in the nightcap won by the Braves 7-2. Hank Aaron also homered in each game.

When Torre first came up to the majors he weighed in at around 205 and not until he went up to 215 three years ago, did he really break loose in the home-run and batting average department.

Still, Torre's managers nagged at him to lose a few pounds and this winter he finally did it. Now with a total of seven homers, 18 runs batted in and a batting average of .277 and rising, he can forget about going off that diet.

In other National League games Wednesday, Pittsburgh edged St. Louis 2-1, Los Angeles topped Houston 5-1 in 10 innings, Cincinnati beat New York 7-4 and Chicago edged San Francisco 5-4.

The Phillies won the first game of their doubleheader on a wild pitch with the bases loaded in the ninth by Phil Niekro. Aaron's homers—the one in the first game was inside the park—gave him a total of seven for the season. Mack Jones also hit one out for the Braves in the second game.

Bob Veale went 8-2-3 innings for the Pirates and set the Cards down on just five hits. But the big right-hander walked two men in the ninth and needed Elroy Face to register the final out. Willie Stargell hit a two-run homer for the Bucs.

The Dodgers and Astros were knotted 1-1 in the 10th when with two out Willie Davis singled, stole second, came in on Ron Hunt's single and the rush was on.

Boys Reminded To Register In Babe Ruth Loop

All 13 year old Little League graduates are reminded to register for Babe Ruth baseball before Thursday, May 18. Blanks are available at Club 314 and at the home of Paul Vardigan, 1704 8th Ave. S.

Local officials point out that all 13 year old boys are eligible for Babe Ruth competition if they sign up in time to be included in the tryouts. Fourteen and 15 year old boys who were not in the program last season must also register before the May 18 deadline.

Italian Racer Dies Of Burns

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Mrs. Lorenzo Bandini collapsed momentarily over the coffin of her husband today as she attended a Mass at the Princess Grace Hospital chapel.

Mrs. Bandini, who is expecting a child, went from her room in the hospital to the chapel for the Mass, said by the Rev. Pietro Raggi.

At the end of the service, she went to the casket and embraced it, sobbing. Despite offers of aid, she raised herself up and walked from the chapel unaided.

Bandini, top driver for the Ferrari works, died Wednesday from effects of an accident Sunday during the Monaco Grand Prix. His car overturned and caught fire.

Hank Aaron is working on a two-year contract with the Atlanta Braves.

Marine Duty Didn't Hurt Rookie Star

By The Associated Press
Olive drab isn't Rick Monday's best color but he fits into green and gold just fine, thank you.

Monday is the young outfielder who pocketed $104,000 of Charles Finley's pin money in baseball's first free-agent draft two summers ago and now looks ready to pay off the dividend for Kansas City's flashily dressed Athletics.

He belted a homer and drove in three runs for the A's Wednesday night in a 7-4 victory over Boston.

One month ago, with the season about to open, Monday was just finishing an active duty stint with the United States Marine Reserves. He shifted from fatigues to flannels fairly easily and has just about clinched a regular job in Manager Al Dark's outfield.

That's something he didn't have when he left the green and gold for the olive drabs.

"The decision on keeping Monday," Dark said when Rick went on active duty, "will depend a lot on whether he is in good shape when he reports to us."

Marine duties being what they are, Monday stayed in shape and returned ready to go. His six extra-base hits and .254 batting average have Dark wondering whether boot camp might not benefit some of the other Athletics.

Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday night, Tommy John hurled a six-hitter and Chicago smashed four home runs in a 13-1 romp over Baltimore. Detroit dropped Cleveland 4-2 and California edged New York 3-2.

Monday drove in two runs with a single in the third inning as Kansas City wiped out an early three-run Red Sox lead.

Then, after the A's had taken the lead in the seventh on singles by Danny Cater and Dick Green, Monday boomed his second homer of the season.

The streaking White Sox won their sixth straight with a 15-hit attack highlighted by the long ball.

Tom McCraw, Pete Ward,

Dick Kenworthy and Tommie Agee smacked the homers and John scattered six hits, losing his shutout in the ninth on Curt Blefary's homer.

It was the biggest offensive output of the season for the White Sox, who usually rely on a Punch and Judy attack. The Orioles dropped their sixth straight and ninth in the last 10 games.

Jose Cardenal opened the ninth inning with a triple for the Angels and after the Yankees walked Jim Fregosi and Jimmie Hall intentionally to set up a force play, Rick Reichardt delivered the game-winning single.

It was Reichardt's third hit of the night and his second RBI.

Soccer Is Easy Game To Follow; Little Man Has Chance To Play

By JOHN SMITH
Written for
The Associated Press

Soccer owes its world-wide popularity to its easy-to-follow rules, non-stop action and the fact that a good little man stands just as good a chance as a good big man.

It is a simple game to understand, combining many of the basics from hockey, basketball and football. It has been described as hockey played with basketball on a football field by 22 marathon runners not allowed to touch the ball with the hands.

As in these other sports, a team tries to score over the other teams goal. The soccer goal is eight yards wide and eight feet high and resembles a hockey goal. Instead of a puck, a black and white leather ball weighing between 14-16 ounces with a circumference of between 27-28 inches is used.

The game starts off with a kick-off which is decided by a toss of a coin. The winning side has the choice of either choosing the side it wishes to defend or kicking off.

A player kicks off by booting the stationary ball placed on the ground at midfield. He can kick to a teammate or into opposing territory. After a score the ball is returned to the center of the field and play begins again.

Speed is one of the strong selling points of the game. Soccer is composed of two "fast and furious" halves with only a few minutes of halftime. There are no time outs as U.S. sports fans know them. There is no water boy, no towels and no consultation with the coach. And, if a player stops to argue with the referee, an opponent may well kick a goal behind his back.

European soccer in recent years has evolved into a defensive game based on the theory that the team which concedes the fewer goals can't lose. South American play is noted for a more aggressive wide open strategy. The newly-aware North Americans have attempted to open up the game even more.

The National Professional Soccer League, under the stewardship of Commissioner Ken Mackler, has tried to encourage scoring output with a new system for its point standings.

Soccer has been calculated on the hockey basis of two points for a victory, one for a tie and none for a defeat. The NPSSL system scores six points for a victory and three for a tie plus a point for every goal scored up to three.

Many of the greatest soccer stars are small in stature. Some of the best comes from poor backgrounds. Pele from Brazil, at 26, the highest paid athlete in the world with an annual salary of $200,000 (plus about $300,000 in other income) was so poor he couldn't afford his own ball. He is only 5-foot-8 and weighs 135 pounds.

Eusebio, the great 24-year-old Portuguese star is 5-foot-10 and weighs 165. He owned only one soccer shoe until he became a pro, when he received a new pair as a bonus for signing.

Surgery Repairs Tiny Tot Heart

NEW YORK (AP) — Erik Agostini is only six weeks old but he already has undergone two major operations in which parts of his heart were rearranged to correct congenital defects. Today he is well enough to go home.

"We thought the worst," said Benjamin Agostini, the boy's father, recalling the time when doctors informed him and his wife that the boy required surgery.

Erik had seemed normal when he was born March 31 but after a few days his breathing became labored, his skin turned blue, and his heart was pumping too rapidly.

"At first they thought it was a little heart murmur," said Agostini, "then it seemed to be pneumonia."

After a week the physicians began to suspect a congenital heart condition and Dr. Joseph Lyndfield, a specialist in cardiology and pediatrics was called in.

Transposed Blood Vessels.

"The baby was in heart failure when I first saw him," said Lyndfield, assistant clinical professor of pediatrics at the New York University Medical Center.

"On first examination I realized that the most probable cause was a transposition of the great vessels leading from the heart and that the baby would probably die unless surgery was performed soon," he said.

The next day the baby was transferred from Beth Israel Hospital where he was born to the intensive care unit at University Hospital.

Extra tests there showed that the pulmonary artery and the aorta — the great vessels — were transposed and that a premature connection between them had failed to close. The aorta was partially obstructed.

A result more than five times as much blood was being pumped into the lungs as there should have been.

Operate At 2 Weeks.

Erik was two weeks old when a team of physicians, nurses and technicians led by Dr. Frank Cole Sweeney, professor and chairman of the department of surgery at the center, operated to reduce the flow of blood to the lungs.

Three days later they opened the right side of the baby's chest for a second operation. It compensated for the transposition of the aorta and pulmonary artery.

During surgery Erik developed complications including an irregular heart beat, collapse of a lung and high acid levels in the blood. He recovered during 16 days in the intensive care unit.

"Now everything's O.K.," said Agostini. "It's miraculous."

Chinook Salmon Plantings Start

LANSING (AP) — Planting of Chinook salmon, expected to provide spectacular sports fishing in Michigan, was started Wednesday by the State Conservation Commission.

The planting of 850,000 Chinooks will be completed by the end of the week.

The Salmon were raised from eggs obtained from Oregon at the Oden Hatchery in the northern Lower Peninsula.

The Chinook salmon are expected to grow as large as from 15 to 40 pounds when they reach maturity. Fishing for them will provide excellent sport, said Wayne Tody, chief of the Conservation Department fish division.

Previous plantings of Coho salmon have shown that the new species grow fast on alewives swarming in the Great Lakes.

Some 300,000 fingerlings about three inches long were released Wednesday in the Muskegon River, just below Croton.

About 500,000 small salmon will be released later this week in the Little Manistee River, at Six Mile Bridge north of Stronach.

Both rivers connect with Lake Michigan.

The remaining 50,000 salmon will be planted this weekend in the Big Huron River, east of Skaneateles. The Big Huron connects with Lake Superior.

A few of the Chinook are expected to return to their rivers of origin in the fall of 1968. Some large adults can be expected in the rivers by 1969.

The main spawning runs are not expected until 1970 when the salmon reach maturity.

The State Conservation Department plans to ban commercial fishing for the Chinook, as it did for Coho salmon.

Sports fishing for the salmon will be allowed. Tentative plans are to make seven inches the legal limit for the salmon in streams and set a 10 inch limit on lake salmon.

Single Ground For Divorce Stirs British Debate

LONDON (AP) — The lord chancellor of England stirred up a controversy over the British divorce question by suggesting that the only ground for divorce should be the irretrievable breakdown of a marriage.

"I would suggest that, subject to safeguards, divorce should be available upon proof that the marriage has irretrievably broken down, and upon no other ground," said Lord Gardiner, who as chancellor is head of the judiciary.

Lord Gardiner made clear that this was a personal view. His suggestion clashed with a recent report made by his own law commission which said divorce should be allowed by consent after two years separation.

Lord Gardiner's statement puts him in agreement with the Church of England. The church recommended last July that the present grounds for divorce — desertion, adultery and cruelty — be replaced with "breakdown of marriage." The church opposes divorce by consent.
